Ferguson attended an English-medium school in Sweden and was raised bilingual, speaking Swedish and English.^[15] She attended the Adolf Fredrik's Music School in Stockholm and graduated in 1999.^[16]

Ferguson was briefly signed to a modeling agency^[8] in her youth after her mother decided that she should be a model,^[17] but she disliked being photographed and turned down jobs.^[8] The modelling agency placed Ferguson in a portfolio titled "normal people" due to her not being tall nor slim enough for modelling.^[17] Her portfolio helped her get cast in her first acting job after it was found by a casting agency for a soap opera in Sweden.^[17] Ferguson then started her acting career aged 15.^[8] Unsure if she wanted to act, Ferguson took other casual work, including working at a nursery and at a daycare centre as a nanny,^[18] in retail stores, at a Korean restaurant,^[19] and as a cleaner in a hotel.^[18]

In 2007, Ferguson gave birth to her first child, a son, with her then-boyfriend Ludwig Hallberg,^[58] a psychosynthesis therapist.^[59] After her soap opera success and the birth of their son, she moved with Hallberg to Simrishamn, on the Swedish southeast coast.^[60] In 2012, Ferguson and Hallberg taught tango together in Österlen.^[60] Ferguson and Hallberg separated in April 2015.^[60]

Since 2016,^[61] Ferguson has been in a relationship with businessman Rory St. Clair Gainer,^{[6][62]} with whom she has a daughter who was born in May 2018.^[63] They married in December 2018^[61] and have a house in Richmond, southwest London, owing to its proximity to Pinewood and Shepperton studios.^[62] Ferguson splits her time between London and a fishing village in Sweden, where her son lives with his father, and she maintains a close relationship with both of them.^[17]

Ferguson has a preference for going barefoot,^[64] a habit that influenced her creative choices for the costume of Rose the Hat in Doctor Sleep (2019).^[65]
